

Urban Gourmet Farms

Urban Gourmet Farms is the brainchild of two long-time friends - Hiram Ramirez and Michelle Smith.

Hiram is a Florida native who, after a tour in the US Navy, finally settled in North Carolina. He developed a passion for gourmet foods for the next 15 years in the fine dining industry, but he always kept alive his dream of bringing something more to the table. In more recent years he experimented with cultivating gourmet mushrooms for personal use and he quickly realized he should share the fruit of his labor with the community.

Michelle Smith, originally from the Cayman Islands, brought with her a strong marketing background and business acumen until she sadly passed away unexpectedly in December 2016.
